WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ...

Interest

Interest accrues on any unpaid tax from the due date of the return until the date of the payment in full. Interest will grow even while you are making payments. The rate of interest is determined quarterly. To check the current rate, irs.gov. Federal Short Term Rate + 3 percent compounded daily.

Failure to Pay Penalty

If you fail to pay the amount shown as tax on your return, you'll be charged .5 percent per month up to the maximum of 25 percent of the amount of tax owed. Interest is charged on penalties. If you fail to pay tax you didn't report on your return, you will receive a letter from the IRS and you have 21 calendar days after the IRS sends the notice to pay. If you fail to pay within 21 days, the penalty is .5 percent. Interest is charged on penalties.

Failure to File Penalty

The penalty for filing late is 5 percent of the unpaid taxes for each month or part of a month that a return is late. This penalty will not exceed 25 percent of your unpaid taxes. If your return is over 60 days late, the minimum Failure to File Penalty is $435 or 100 percent of the tax required to be shown on the return—whichever is less.

Extensions

An extension grants you a longer time to file the 1040 forms. It is NOT an extension to pay. $1 on a credit card is an automatic extension. No paperwork necessary.

Short Term Payment Plan (180 Days or less)

$0 set up fee. Penalties and interest are added until the balance is paid in full.

Long Term Payment Plan (Monthly Installment Agreement)

Pay monthly through automatic withdrawals ($31 set-up fee) or pay each month ($130 set-up fee). Penalties and interest are added until the balance is paid in full. Use form 9465 and attach to the front of the tax return to apply for an installment agreement or apply online at irs.gov. The IRS will automatically give qualified taxpayers the low-income installment agreement fee; taxpayers do not have to request it. See Form 9465 Instructions. THIS IS JUST the application. The IRS must approve your application.
