

You can make a difference for our neighbors living with HIV/AIDS.

The Tennessee Community HIV/AIDS Partnership (TNCHAP) is a volunteer-based planning group helping organizations decide how funds for Ryan White and CDC prevention grants are used and distributed—and our planning council is looking for members! Whether you're living with HIV/AIDS, you are part of the LGBTQ+ community or you're a social or health care provider or a community leader, we need your help.

As a planning council member, you will:

- Meet with community-based organizations and like-minded people and listen to the needs of people living with HIV/AIDS or seeking HIV prevention services.
- Express your ideas about how to meet the needs of people impacted by HIV/AIDS.
- Help community organizations that provide HIV care or prevention services create a plan for providing support services.
- Guide health services for HIV treatment and prevention.
- Set priorities for how funds are used.
- Ensure grant funds are used to improve the health of those living with HIV/AIDS and reduce the incidence of HIV.

Membership opportunities are available now! Benefits include:

- Lunch provided at every meeting
- Mileage reimbursement for members traveling from outlying counties
- Scholarship opportunities for conferences nationwide
- Specialized committee opportunities
- Collaborative community support
