SPEAKER BIOS

JOHN CREAMER

John currently serves as the Market President for Tennessee at Commerce Bank, where he leads a team of commercial bankers across the southeastern United States with a focus on the industries of healthcare, general middle market, and commercial real estate. In addition to his regional leadership, he provides strategic oversight for the Commercial Real Estate division across Commerce Bank's Eastern Expansion Markets, which include Tennessee, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan.

Since joining Commerce Bank in August 2015, John has brought more than 16 years of banking experience to the role, including officer and senior leadership positions at money center, regional, and community financial institutions. His diverse background has equipped him with deep expertise in relationship management, strategic growth, and market development.

John is also deeply committed to community service. He currently serves as Vice President of the Board of the Community Resource Center of Middle Tennessee and previously served on the Board of Ambassadors for the American Cancer Society's Discovery Ball in Nashville.

He holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with an emphasis in Finance and Banking from the University of Missouri.
